

The Legacy of Steve Jobs

By: Zac Smith

Steve Jobs.

A legend.

An icon.

You have unveiled a way of life and acceptance for any one person through your work.

Your philanthropy is unending and seemingly the whole of media.

You have bequeathed aspiration, inspiration, and hope for our future with your ability, as an innovator.

You will forever be the single greatest mind of this age.

You will forever be the epoch of this generation's cultivation into humanism, with a touch of explicit realism.

Thank you, is simply not enough.
